

Is there a job in ICT for me?

High unemployment 26 million people unemployed across Europe

But ICT employees are in demand!
900,000
unfilled ICT jobs by 2020
ESTIMATED

Why is there a gap?
9.5% fewer
ICT graduates since 2006

Information and communications technology (ICT) jobs this way...

So what kinds of ICT jobs are out there?

ICT technicians

- Technology operations technicians
- User support technicians
- Systems technicians
- Web technicians

What type of jobs?

ICT professionals

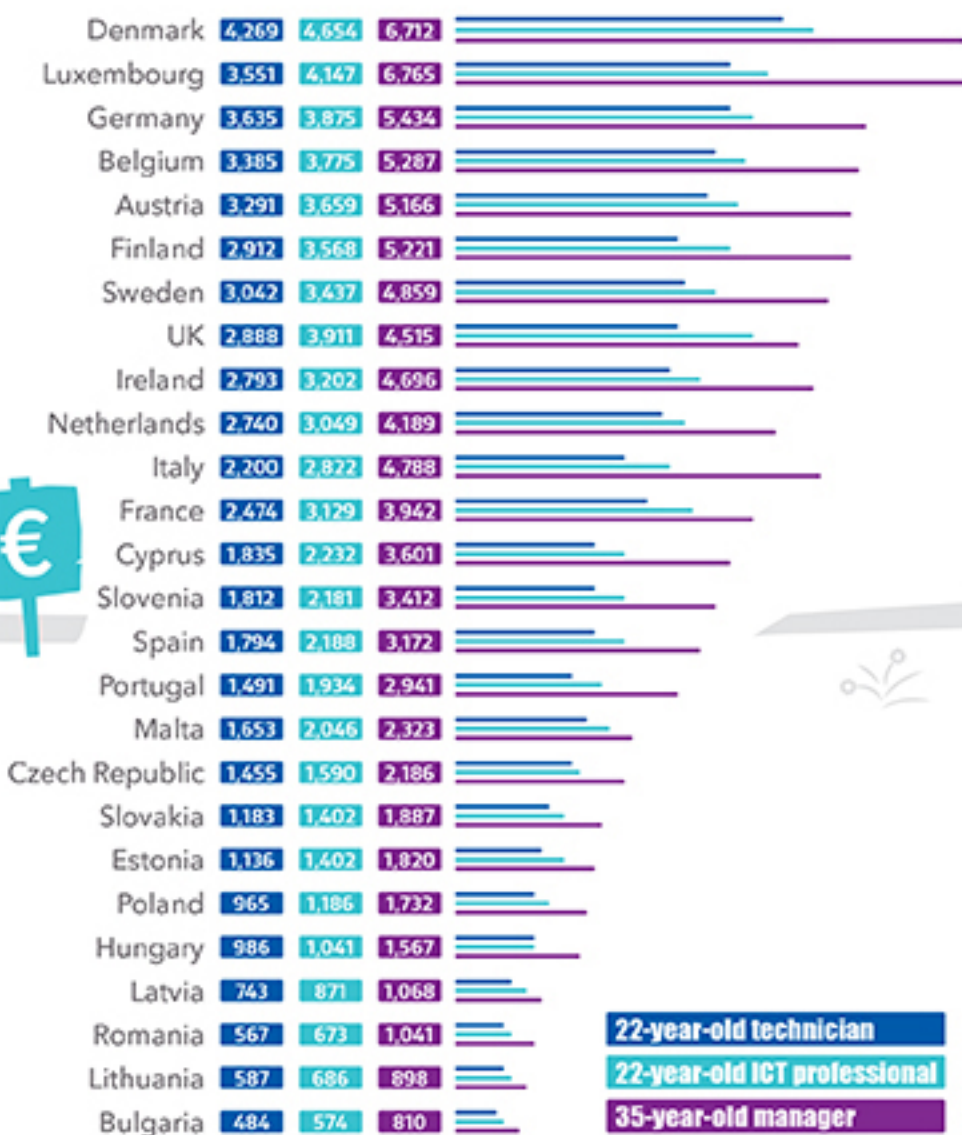

- Digital/web designers
- Software developers/architects
- Web & multimedia developers
- Applications programmers
- Computer network professionals
- Web entrepreneurs

Management, architecture & analysis

- Web analysts
- ICT service managers
- Management & organization analysts
- Systems analysts
- IT business analysts

How much could I get paid?

Average monthly earnings (Euro) in 2010, before tax:

22-year-old technician

22-year-old ICT professional

35-year-old manager

Where can I get ICT skills?

University degrees

IT certificates

Vocational training

Vendor certifications

Informal training

To find out more, visit:
www.getonlineweek.eu/ict-jobs

The Grand Coalition for Digital Jobs

The European Commission's Grand Coalition for Digital Jobs plans to fill the digital skills gap by attracting more young people to digital careers, boosting education and training, and facilitating access to digital opportunities.

getonlineweek.eu
24-30 March 2014

Grand Coalition for Digital Jobs

eSKILLS
FOR JOBS 2014

LIBERTY GLOBAL

telecentre europe
community networking