

International workshop

The Cosmopolitan roots of India's Democracy
A Tribute to Giorgio Borsa

University of Pavia
Aula Scarpa , 15th , May, 2012

Participants

10.00 a.m. Europe and Asia: Let's Imagine a G8 in 1512
Piero Fornara, journalist, former senior editor at "Il Sole 24Ore"

10.15 a.m. The Cosmopolitan Society of 16th-17th Century Hyderabad
Simonetta Casci, University of Pavia

10.30 a.m. Drawing India on the Globe for Roi Soleil
Marica Milanese, University of Pavia

10.50 a.m. Coffee break

11.15 a.m. Lectio Magistralis

Akbar, the Sufi Shaikhs and the Making of the Mughal Culture
Muzaffar Alam, University of Chicago

12.00 a.m. Akbar
Giancarlo Calza, University of Venice

2.15 p.m. Modernity and the Cosmopolitan Traditions of India
Sudipta Kaviraj, Columbia University, New York

2.45 p.m. Cosmopolitanism at the Margins
Francesca Orsini, Soas, University of London

3.05 p.m. From an Imperfect Tripolarism to a Realist Multipolarism
Alberto Toscano, Ufr, Sorbonne, Paris

3.20 p.m. India's Cosmopolitan Foreign Policy: Prospects for the 21st century
Simona Vittorini, Soas, University of London

3.40 p.m. Imam Khomeini's Political Thought from Theory to Practice
Abbas Shameli, Al Mustafa International University for Islamic Studies, Qom